Fraud Detection and Prevention

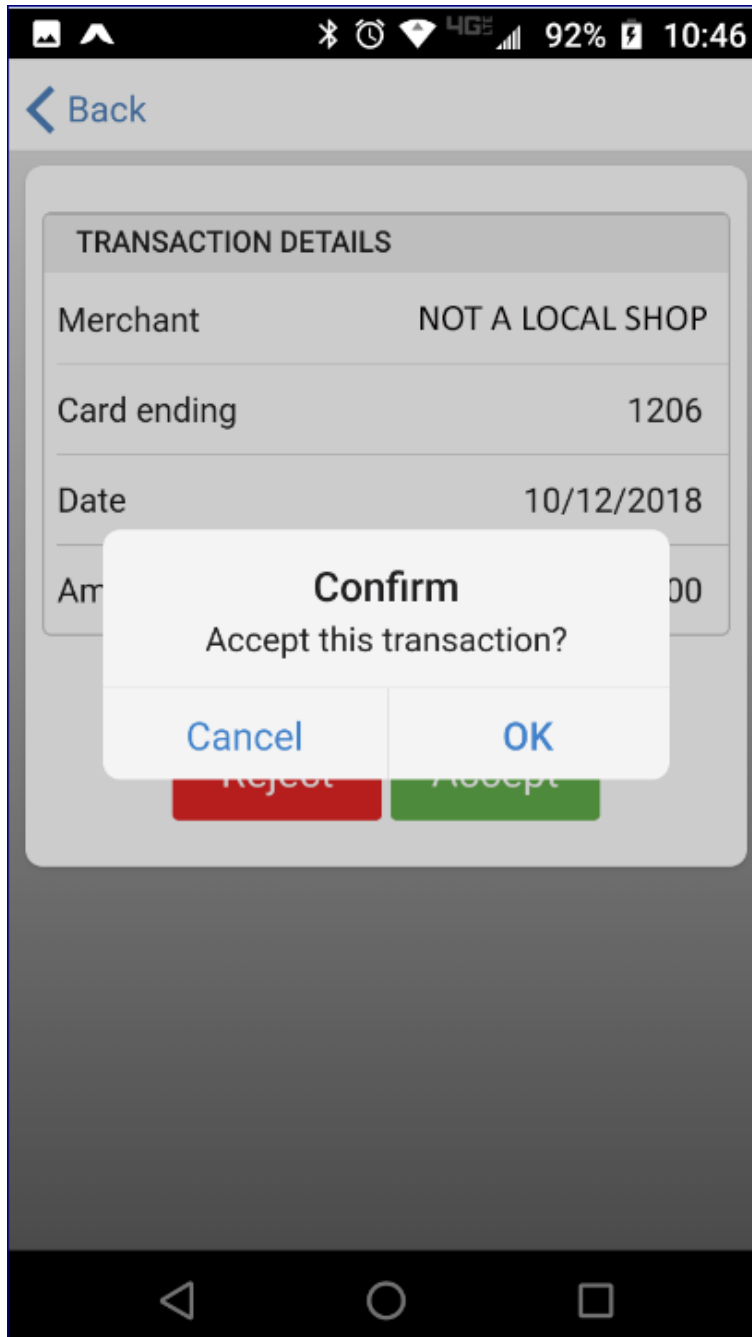

When a transaction is detected that is suspected to be fraud, you will get a push alert on your phone that will take you to the home page:

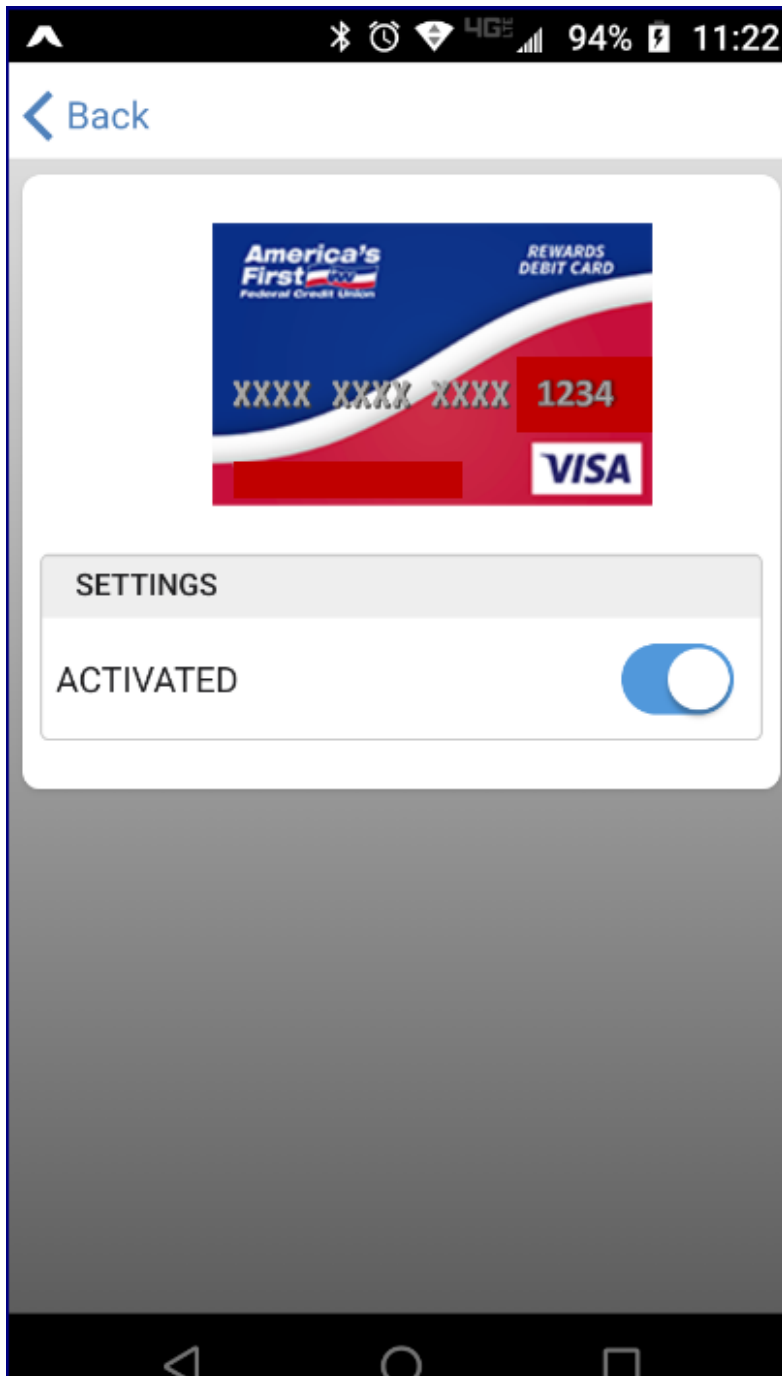

When you click on the transaction, you will be given the option to Reject or Accept it. If you reject or ignore it, your card will be blocked. If you accept it, your card will remain active and ready to use.

When you click Reject or Accept, you will be asked to confirm your selection:

To disable your card, simply click on the card you want to disable and move the slider left. To reactivate your card, slide it to the right.

Clicking “Notifications” in the drop down menu at the top left of the screen, or “History” on the bottom of the screen will show you all alerts you have received and how you responded to them.
