*This form is for consumer loans only. Deferring your monthly loan payment does not change your contractual loan payment amount or any other terms and conditions of the original agreement. Interest will continue to accrue at the rate previously disclosed and the original loan maturity date will be extended by the number of deferred payments. If you have GAP protection, any amount of the loan that is skipped or deferred will not be covered under your GAP protection. If your loan is delinquent by thirty-days or more or you are currently in bankruptcy, you are not eligible for a deferment and should contact one of our representatives. Mortgage loans other than Home Equity Lines of Credit will be required to sign a modification agreement. Business loan members should contact our Business Loan Department for COVID-19 related assistance.
